

New Partner Announcement

We are delighted to announce that Shireen Peermohamed has joined our Intellectual Property Group as a Partner.

Shireen is a highly experienced IP litigator and has acted for many years for a large number of well-known brands. Her expertise includes all aspects of intellectual property with a particular emphasis on brand strategy and protection, trade dress and copyright. She has represented clients from a broad range of industries and sectors including FMCG, publishing, telecommunications and technology.

Shireen is recommended in both The Legal 500 and Chambers & Partners directories for her IP work, and is a CEDR accredited mediator. She joins the firm having previously been a partner with Rouse Legal.

Shireen has joined a well-established IP practice, and partners Mark Owen, Andy Millmore, Lawrence Abramson and Sandi Simons. The firm is one of the few IP teams that cover the entire spectrum of IP rights including copyright, brand and image rights, designs, enforcement and dispute resolution, anti-counterfeiting and piracy, patents, securing trade marks and passing off, domain names, competition law, technology and innovations and advertising as well as marketing issues.
