

Private Client

*'A "positive and responsive" team
that will "fight my corner for me"'*

Chambers and Partners

Our Private Client Group

We have a dedicated team providing bespoke tax and private client advice to individuals, trustees and executors.

Lifetime and estate planning

We are able to advise on all legal aspects of our clients' personal and financial affairs, ranging from setting up trusts for children, to helping with the affairs of elderly relatives.

An integrated service for high net worth individuals

The Private Client Group also offers corporate and tax expertise to provide an integrated service to high net worth individuals, including advice on wealth preservation and mitigation of tax for clients both within and outside the UK.

Image rights and IP

The firm's legal expertise in the entertainment and media industries means that we can also provide advice on the protection and exploitation of intellectual property and image rights, whether when appointed as professional executors or trustees, or when advising such executors or trustees. We have extensive experience in the negotiation of licence fees and royalties for the use of such rights, whilst ensuring that the integrity of the artist is preserved. We are widely recognised for working with individuals to protect brand image, reputation and contractual rights both in the United Kingdom and globally.

'I've been working with the Private Client team in recent years and they are smart, technically astute and fun to deal with. They understand my personal needs and identify and deal with key issues early and sort them out efficiently. I wouldn't go anywhere else.'

Kelly Sumner, former CEO of Take Two Interactive Inc and Redoctane Inc.
